Reproducibility Package README

The code in this replication package (file: replication_paper2024_data.do) generates Figure 1 in the paper "What Works in Supporting Women-led Businesses" using Stata. There is a single file that runs all the code to generate Figure 1. Code for data cleaning and analysis is provided as part of the replication package.

Data Availability and Provenance Statements

The paper uses World Bank Enterprise Surveys data (Source: World Bank Enterprise Surveys, <http://www.enterprisesurveys.org>). Authors are not permitted to transfer datasets downloaded from this site to third parties, even journals, as that would violate the terms of the "Data Access Protocol" as agreed when first using any firm-level dataset. Access to the data requires registration and login at the website: <http://login.enterprisesurveys.org/content/sites/financeandprivatesector/en/signin.html>. Once logged in, replicators should go to "Combined Data" and select "StandardizedNew-2006-2023-core4.zip" to obtain the data.

The paper used the data file named: "New_Comprehensive_March_1_2024.dta" and with version: March 01, 2024. The file is not included in the public reproducibility package. The dataset is regularly updated and current versions might not correspond to the exact version used.
